

TWO FAMILIES, ONE GREAT EXPERIENCE

The Washington Post calls Wife Swap “A fascinating sociological experiment... promisingly sly and serious, funny and flabbergasting”. The New York Post says the show is “...impossible to stop watching”.

The premise of Wife Swap is simple: for one week, two wives from two different families with very different values exchange husbands, children and lives (but not bedrooms) to discover what it's like to live a different woman's life.

Wife Swap families rave about their experiences on the show. Jody Spolansky, a New York City heiress who appeared on the premiere episode, says “What a great way to step outside your life and see how someone else lives”. Caprice DeLauder, who swapped places on another episode, says, “I was not ready for Wife Swap to end after two weeks”. And Nicole Stallone, a daughter in one episode says, “We always appreciated our mom, but we gained a whole new appreciation for everything that she does for us”.

Wife Swap is now looking for skating families for season three! Don't miss your chance to be part of this groundbreaking show. Families (two parents and at least one child at home) must live in the U.S.
